Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde is based on Robert Louis Stevenson's often adapted 1886 socially conscious horror novella. This version stars the incomparable John Barrymore as Dr. Henry Jekyll, a gentle, saintly Victorian physician. When the good Dr. Jekyll meets the diabolical Sir George Carew, the father of his fiancée, Millicent, Carew is "piqued" by Dr. Jekyll. "No man could be as good as he looks," Carew says. He goads Jekyll who becomes fascinated by the dark side of the human psyche. The sinfully seductive Miss Gina arouses more of Jekyll's sexual and sociopathic longings. Determined to explore the dark side of consciousness without endangering himself, Jekyll concocts a potion that transforms him into Edward Hyde, an uninhibited rogue whom Barrymore brilliantly brings to life. Jekyll's initial transformation into Hyde was achieved with no makeup, instead relying solely on Barrymore's ability to contort his face and the help of only artificial teeth and fingers. Jekyll finds that it is becoming harder and harder to separate his two personalities, sending him into a downward spiral that seems destined to end with the destruction of his former identity.

PRESIDENT'S PERSPECTIVE—Randy Warwick

Many thanks to Terry Clifton and Dave Moreno for helping yours truly for the Chapter's participation in the Fair Oaks Park District's Fifth Annual Chicken Festival. We were scheduled to play the organ a couple of hours to what we anticipated to be a fairly small number of people that would drift in and out of the Clubhouse. Well, mother nature came along with a rare September shower, and it turned out to be the "Rained Out Festival." However, the rain drove many of the at least three or so hundred remaining festival goers to bring their hot dogs, burgers, pizza, and such into the shelter of the Clubhouse, and voila! The feeling was that of a time machine back to a mid-seventies Pizza and Pipes scenario, consisting of a theatre pipe organ blasting away to a generally less than attentive and noisy crowd. But hey, lots of people did applaud and appreciate our efforts.

On another note, I have some exciting news to share with you. One of the most iconic of all the 2200+ Wurlitzer theatre organs built, the New York Paramount Theatre radio/recording studio 4/21 custom made for Jesse Crawford in 1926 is now in Dick Taylor's Rocklin building. In addition to all the other wonderful Wurlitzers and Mortons in our Chapter's area, this will eventually be an instrument that will draw theatre organ enthusiasts from all over the world. The complete renovation that Dick and Ed Stout have planned means it will be at least two or three years until any sound is heard, but it will be well worth the wait.
